

RECORDING REQUEST, DEVELOPMENT, REPRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION ACQUISITION SYSTEM AND METHOD

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 A method and system for receiving, developing, recording, transposing/arranging, and distributing personalized recordings. The system and method allow receiving requests for personalized recordings from a variety of sources, either directly or in-directly. The requests are then developed into personalized recordings either in-house or via a work for hire arrangement with outside artists. The developed requests are then recorded in a specified 10 format, including genre, point of view, tempo and instrumental selection. Then the developed request is transposed/arranged into other genres, points of view, tempo and instrumental selections and added to the musical database. The recordings are then distributed, either via a distribution center or person to person. There also exists the ability to incorporate professional recording artists into the system to increase distribution network and audience 15 base.
